What it's about

Our Gamechanger groups are teams of senior leaders who want to make a difference both in their own business and beyond.

You'll share insights, business information and enough about yourself so that the group has the context and understanding to work with and for you.

Born out of the challenges confronting leadership in the dairy industry, members of Gamechanger are now from a range of businesses and share a common commitment to role modelling and leading change, regardless of the industry they work in.

What you get out of it...

The purpose of Gamechanger is to share, learn, challenge, change and grow ourselves and our businesses. We do this by meeting three times a year to review, question and challenge ourselves and each other.
